Care Home in Winfrith

Winter Newsletter

A Winters Welcome....

Another season is here and it seems like only 5 minutes since we were admiring the beautiful gardens, yet here we are now wrapped up in coats, hats and scarf's bracing ourselves against the elements. Here at Marley House the snow, although looking beautiful, did lead to some disruption of deliveries and services, although with Emiel acting as international rescue the paths were kept clear and staff collected from far and wide to ensure our residents were cared for in the outstanding manner they are accustomed to.

Enjoying the carol singing.

Marley House

Care Home in Winfrith

Work scheduled.....

With our sister home, Wordsworth House, in the midst of a 'makeover' it seemed only fair that Marley House should receive the same treatment, a recent meeting of the Management team has identified a works project starting in the spring to include a new roof for the conservatory, and repairs to the roof in the dining room. New heating / air cooling units for both the conservatory and dining room to allow us to control the temperatures in these areas. Redecoration of a number of resident bedrooms and corridor areas, and a freshen up and redecoration of our sluice rooms in both the lodge and the main house. We are planning to do this gradually over the coming 6 – 9 months thus minimising the disruption to our residents.

As always we continually welcome your comments and feedback on any aspect of the home and the services we provide, so as they say, if your happy tell your friends, but if you're not tell us!
